LOCATION HISTORY

This house was created by an architect (unknown) in the 70s and served as a showroom for its owner who was a tiler. For 35 years it was inhabited by a couple of traders and was loaded with gilding, marble, columns. In 2018 we bought this house and by removing the superfluous, we fell back on the original architectural lines. The house is full of light and the pool is totally improbable because of its shape and dimensions is worthy of Beverly Hills.
