LOCATION HISTORY

The first written record dates back to 1271, when mention is made of the purchase of land by Philippe de Bourbourg and to Dame Blanche, his wife who owned land in Bambeke. The Lordship of Bambeke and Ingelshof united until the revolution will pass consecutively under the hand of various Lords from the 13th to the 18th century. From the second half of the 18th century, the fief was sold to a Dunkirk owner and trader, Robert Guillaume Delattre d'Alkerque, who had the Ingelshof Castle built in 1778.

Owned by the Blanckaert family, mayor of Bambecque from 1827, then Paul Matringhem until 1919. The domain then enters the family Fossaert who has owned it for 5 generations.

In the early 2000s, the farmhouse and the sprouter are transformed into several houses while retaining the charm of the place. As for the castle, it will be rented for nearly 10 years to a writer and director who is a member of the Académie française and will spend a peaceful and private retreat there until 2018.
