LOCATION HISTORY

By Ivry Serres Architecte & Beaudoin architectes.

Place of crossroads and exchanges, the Médiathèque Charles Nègre is both a center of culture and learning but also a space of resources, leisure, experimentation and co-construction.

Dedicated to the world of images and paying tribute to the eponymous Grasse photographer, the Médiathèque Charles Nègre is structured around 7 platforms, 5 of which are open to the public, and offers thematic spaces giving free access to various media. It offers a unique setting bathed in light to read, work, watch a movie, listen to music, use a computer, visit an exhibition or meet your friends over a coffee.
